Senators stick to their guns on 10% VAT

By Janet Lim-Santiago

The Senate's rejection of the House's bill to allow the government to impose a 10% value-added tax (VAT) on the sale of goods and services has put the two chambers at loggerheads.

House Speaker Juan Ponce Enrile said the House will continue to push for the bill, which would allow the government to impose a 10% VAT on the sale of goods and services.

The Senate, however, has rejected the bill, saying it would be a burden on the people. It also said the bill would be a violation of the constitution.

Iraqi lawmakers protest humiliation of legislator at American checkpoint

Baghdad, April 10 (AP) — Iraqi lawmakers on Wednesday protested the arrest and humiliation of a legislator at an American checkpoint in Baghdad, saying the act was a violation of international law.

The protest was held in the presence of the United Nations and the International Committee of the Red Cross. The lawmakers demanded the immediate release of the legislator and an investigation into the incident.

The legislator, who was arrested at a checkpoint, was reportedly humiliated and subjected to physical abuse. The incident has caused widespread outrage in Iraq and has led to calls for international action.

HOME COME CHINA & LANGUAGE

By [Name] [City]

After a long and arduous journey, I have finally returned home to China. The experience has been a mix of joy and sadness. I have missed the familiar sights and sounds of my hometown, but I have also gained a new perspective on the world.

During my time abroad, I have learned a great deal about the Chinese language and culture. I have also met many people from different backgrounds, which has helped me to understand the world better.

I am grateful for the opportunity to have lived abroad and to have returned home. I am excited to see my family and friends and to share with them the experiences I have had.

It was a very well-attended and successful event, with a total of 100 people in attendance. The event was held in a very comfortable and well-lit room, and the food and drink was excellent. The speakers were all very knowledgeable and experienced, and their presentations were both informative and entertaining. The event was a great success, and we were very pleased to have so many people in attendance.

As a result, the authors conclude that the current research on the effects of the Internet on the social network of adolescents is inconclusive. Further research is needed to clarify the role of the Internet in the social network of adolescents.

The first study which is being carried out by the new group will involve the use of a computerized, self-administered questionnaire to determine the prevalence of depression in the community. The results of this study will be used to help plan the design of the second study, which will involve a more detailed investigation of the prevalence of depression in the community.

For any of the 12 other years 1981-1992, the χ^2 test was not significant. For a given year, the treatment of patients was following: control and non-control patients were hospitalized in the same hospital ward, a 100% control group was hospitalized in the same hospital ward, a 100% control group was hospitalized in a different hospital ward, and non-control patients were hospitalized in a different hospital ward.
